LIST OF PUBLIC SECONDARY SCHOOLS IN CANADA (Academic, Technical and Commercial)

Academic Secondary Schools. - The one term common to secondary schools of all the provincial school systems (except the Roman Catholic schools of Quebec) is "high school". But the exact definition of a high school, or the classification of high schools, is not the same in any two provinces. In some cases the larger high schools are called collegiate institutes, collegiate departments or grammar schools, and the smaller go by such names as continuation schools, superior schools, etc. The following pages show the location of the largest secondary schools in each province, but by reason of the interprovincial differences in classification, the list includes smaller schools in some provinces than in others. All those included, however, normally teach all the years of the high school or secondary course; junior high schools are not listed. The list of academic secondary schools includes about 1150 names.

Technical Schools. - The names of the secondary schools in the first list which have departments for technical teaching are followed by "(T)". Technical schools which do not include the academic course are shown in the second list. The two sources together include the names of about 80 schools where day technical courses are given. Institutions of higher education are not included except in one or two cases where they offer some instruction below the college level. Schools offering evening technical classes are not included unless they also operate as a day technical school.

Commercial Secondary Schools. - The names of schools in the first two lists which offer commercial courses are followed by a "(C)". Commercial high schools which do not include academic or technical courses are shown in list No. 3. Altogether there are about 100 schools offering day commercial courses.

Agricultural Schools. - List No. 4 gives the names of purely agricultural schools, including two dairy schools. University faculties or colleges of agriculture are included by reason of their diploma courses. A few of the high schools in British Columbia, Ontario and New Brunswick (Lists 1 and 2) offer an agricultural course; their names are followed by "(Agr.)".

Schools of Fine Art. - A half dozen of these constitute List No. 5.

NOTE: Schools in each provincial list are arranged alphabetically according to post office address.

REPERTOIRE DES ECOLES SECONDAIRES PUBLIQUES AU CANADA

(Académiques, techniques et commerciales)

Ecoles secondaires académiques. - Le seul terme qui puisse servir à désigner les écoles secondaires de tous les systèmes scolaires provinciaux (excepté les écoles catholiques romaines de la province de Québec) est celui de lycée ou "high school". Mais la définition exacte d'un lycée ou la classification des lycées n'est pas la même dans toutes les provinces. Dans certains cas, les lycées les plus importants sont appelés instituts collégiaux, départements collégiaux ou écoles de grammaire et les moins importants écoles de continuation, écoles supérieures, etc. Les endroits où sont situées les écoles secondaires les plus importantes dans chaque province sont indiqués à la page suivante. En raison toutefois des différences de classification qui peuvent exister entre les provinces, la liste indique de plus petites écoles dans certaines provinces que dans d'autres. Cependant toutes celles qu'elle contient donnent normalement toutes les années du cours de lycée ou secondaire. Elle ne contient pas les lycées juniors. La liste des écoles secondaires académiques contient 1150 noms.

Ecoles techniques. - Les noms des écoles secondaires de la première liste qui ont des départements d'enseignement technique sont suivis de la lettre "(T)". Les écoles techniques qui ne donnent pas de cours académique sont indiquées dans la deuxième liste. Les deux listes contiennent les noms d'environ 80 écoles où l'enseignement technique se donne pendant le jour. Elles n'indiquent pas les institutions d'enseignement supérieur, excepté dans deux cas où ces institutions sont d'un degré inférieur à celui de collège. Les listes ne donnent pas non plus les écoles où l'enseignement technique se donne le soir, à moins qu'elles ne soient en même temps des écoles techniques de jour.

Ecoles commerciales secondaires. - Dans les deux premières listes, les noms des écoles qui ont des cours commerciaux sont suivis de la lettre "(C)". La liste No 3. donne le nom des lycées commerciaux qui ne donnent pas d'enseignement académique ou technique. Il y a en tout environ 100 écoles qui donnent l'enseignement commercial pendant le jour.

Ecoles d'agriculture. - La liste No 4. donne les noms des écoles exclusivement agricoles, de même que de deux écoles d'enseignement laitier. Les facultés universitaires ou les collèges agricoles y sont indiqués en raison des diplômes qu'ils confèrent à la fin de leurs cours. Quelques-uns des lycées de la Colombie Britannique, de l'Ontario et du Nouveau-Brunswick (listes 1 et 2) donnent des cours d'agriculture. Leurs noms sont suivis de l'abréviation "(Agr.)".

Ecoles de Beaux-arts. - Il y en a six et elles constituent la liste No. 5.

NOTA: Les écoles de chaque liste provinciale sont disposées dans l'ordre alphabétique des bureaux de poste des endroits dans lesquels elles sont situées.

LIST OF PUBLIC SECONDARY SCHOOLS IN CANADA (Academic, Technical and Commercial)

Academic Secondary Schools. - The one term common to secondary schools of all the provincial school systems (except the Roman Catholic schools of Quebec) is "high school". But the exact definition of a high school, or the classification of high schools, is not the same in any two provinces. In some cases the larger high schools are called collegiate institutes, collegiate departments or grammar schools, and the smaller go by such names as continuation schools, superior schools, etc. The following pages show the location of the largest secondary schools in each province, but by reason of the interprovincial differences in classification, the list includes smaller schools in some provinces than in others. All those included, however, normally teach all the years of the high school or secondary course; junior high schools are not listed. The list of academic secondary schools includes about 1300 names.

Technical Schools. - The names of the secondary schools in the first list which have departments for technical teaching are followed by "(T)". Technical schools which do not include the academic course are shown in the second list. The two sources together include the names of about 85 schools where day technical courses are given. Institutions of higher education are not included except in one or two cases where they offer some instruction below the college level. Schools offering evening technical classes are not included unless they also operate as a day technical school.

Commercial Secondary Schools. - The names of schools in the first two lists which offer commercial courses are followed by a "(C)". Commercial high schools which do not include academic or technical courses are shown in list No. 3. Altogether there are about 180 schools offering day commercial courses.

Agricultural Schools. - List No. 4 gives the names of purely agricultural schools, including dairy schools. University faculties or colleges of agriculture are included by reason of their diploma courses. A few of the high schools in British Columbia, Ontario and New Brunswick (Lists 1 and 2) offer an agricultural course; their names are followed by "(Agr.)".

Schools of Fine Art. - Eight of these constitute List No. 5.

NOTE: Schools in each provincial list are arranged alphabetically according to post office address.

REPERTOIRE DES ECOLES SECONDAIRES PUBLIQUES AU CANADA

(Académiques, techniques et commerciales)

Ecoles secondaires académiques. - Le seul terme qui puisse servir à désigner les écoles secondaires de tous les systèmes scolaires provinciaux (excepté les écoles catholiques romaines de la province de Québec) est celui de lycée ou "high school". Mais la définition exacte d'un lycée ou la classification des lycées n'est pas la même dans toutes les provinces. Dans certains cas, les lycées les plus importants sont appelés instituts collégiaux, départements collégiaux ou écoles de grammaire et les moins importants, écoles de continuation, écoles supérieures, etc. Les endroits où sont situées les écoles secondaires les plus importantes dans chaque province sont indiqués à la page suivante. En raison toutefois des différences de classification qui peuvent exister entre les provinces, la liste indique de plus petites écoles dans certaines provinces que dans d'autres. Cependant toutes celles qu'elle contient donnent normalement toutes les années du cours de lycée ou secondaire. Elle ne contient pas les lycées juniors. La liste des écoles secondaires académiques contient 1300 noms.

Ecoles techniques. - Les noms des écoles secondaires de la première liste qui ont des départements d'enseignement technique sont suivis de la lettre "(T)". Les écoles techniques qui ne donnent pas de cours académique sont indiquées dans la deuxième liste. Les deux listes contiennent les noms d'environ 85 écoles où l'enseignement technique se donne pendant le jour. Elles n'indiquent pas les institutions d'enseignement supérieur, excepté dans deux cas où ces institutions sont d'un degré inférieur à celui de collège. Les listes ne donnent pas non plus les écoles où l'enseignement technique se donne le soir, à moins qu'elles ne soient en même temps des écoles techniques de jour.

Ecoles commerciales secondaires. - Dans les deux premières listes, les noms des écoles qui ont des cours commerciaux sont suivis de la lettre "(C)". La liste No. 3 donne le nom des lycées commerciaux qui ne donnent pas d'enseignement académique ou technique. Il y a en tout environ 180 écoles qui donnent l'enseignement commercial pendant le jour.

Ecoles d'agriculture. - La liste No 4, donne les noms des écoles exclusivement agricoles, de même que des écoles d'enseignement laitier. Les facultés universitaires ou les collèges agricoles y sont indiqués en raison des diplômes qu'ils confèrent à la fin de leurs cours. Quelques-uns des lycées de la Colombie Britannique, de l'Ontario et du Nouveau-Brunswick (listes 1 et 2) donnent des cours d'agriculture. Leurs noms sont suivis de l'abréviation "(Agr.)".

Ecoles de Beaux-arts. - Il y en a huit et elles constituent la liste No. 5.

LIST OF PUBLIC SECONDARY SCHOOLS IN CANADA
(Academic, Technical and Commercial)

Academic Secondary Schools. - The one term common to secondary schools of all the provincial school systems (except the Roman Catholic schools of Quebec) is "high school". But the exact definition of a high school, or the classification of high schools, is not the same in any two provinces. In some cases the larger high schools are called collegiate institutes, collegiate departments or grammar schools, and the smaller go by such names as continuation schools, superior schools, etc. The following pages show the location of the largest secondary schools in each province, but by reason of the interprovincial differences in classification, the list includes smaller schools in some provinces than in others. All those included, however, normally teach all the years of the high school or secondary course; junior high schools are not listed. The list of academic secondary schools includes about 1300 names.

Technical Schools. - The names of the secondary schools in the first list which have departments for technical teaching are followed by "T". Technical schools which do not include the academic course are shown in the second list. The two sources together include the names of about 165 schools where day technical courses are given. Institutions of higher education are not included except in one or two cases where they offer some instruction below the college level. Schools offering evening technical classes are not included unless they also operate as a day technical school.

Commercial Secondary Schools. - The names of schools in the first two lists which offer commercial courses are followed by a "C". Commercial high schools which do not include academic or technical courses are shown in list No. 3. Altogether there are about 200 schools offering day commercial courses.

Agricultural Schools. - List No. 4 gives the names of purely agricultural schools, including dairy schools. University faculties or colleges of agriculture are included by reason of their diploma courses. A few of the high schools in British Columbia, Ontario and New Brunswick (Lists 1 and 2) offer an agricultural course; their names are followed by "A". The total number of schools shown as offering agricultural courses is over 90.

Schools of Fine Art. - Seven of these constitute list No. 5.

NOTE: Schools in each provincial list are arranged alphabetically according to post office address.

REPERTOIRE DES ECOLES SECONDAIRES PUBLIQUES AU CANADA (Académiques, techniques et commerciales)

Ecoles secondaires académiques. - Le seul terme qui puisse servir à désigner les écoles secondaires de tous les systèmes scolaires provinciaux (excepté les écoles catholiques romaines de la province de Québec) est celui de lycée ou "high school". Mais la définition exacte d'un lycée ou la classification des lycées n'est pas la même dans toutes les provinces. Dans certains cas, les lycées les plus importants sont appelés instituts collégiaux, départements collégiaux ou écoles de grammaire et les moins importants, écoles de continuation, écoles supérieures, etc. Les endroits où sont situées les écoles secondaires les plus importantes dans chaque province sont indiqués à la page suivante. En raison toutefois des différences de classification qui peuvent exister entre les provinces, la liste indique de plus petites écoles dans certaines provinces que dans d'autres. Cependant toutes celles qu'elle contient donnent normalement toutes les années du cours de lycée ou secondaire. Elle ne contient pas les lycées juniors. La liste des écoles secondaires académiques contient 1300 noms.

Ecoles techniques. - Les noms des écoles secondaires de la première liste qui ont des départements d'enseignement technique sont suivis de la lettre "T". Les écoles techniques qui ne donnent pas de cours académique sont indiquées dans la deuxième liste. Les deux listes contiennent les noms d'environ 165 écoles où l'enseignement technique se donne pendant le jour. Elles n'indiquent pas les institutions d'enseignement supérieur, excepté dans deux cas où ces institutions sont d'un degré inférieur à celui de collège. Les listes ne donnent pas non plus les écoles où l'enseignement technique se donne le soir, à moins qu'elles ne soient en même temps des écoles techniques de jour.

Ecoles commerciales secondaires. - Dans les deux premières listes, les noms des écoles qui ont des cours commerciaux sont suivis de la lettre "C". La liste No. 3 donne le nom des lycées commerciaux qui ne donnent pas d'enseignement académique ou technique. Il y a en tout environ 200 écoles qui donnent l'enseignement commercial pendant le jour.

Ecoles d'agriculture. - La liste No 4. donne les noms des écoles exclusivement agricoles, de même que des écoles d'enseignement laitier. Les facultés universitaires ou les collèges agricoles y sont indiqués en raison des diplômes qu'ils confèrent à la fin de leurs cours. Quelques-uns des lycées de la Colombie Britannique, de l'Ontario et du Nouveau-Brunswick (listes 1 et 2) donnent des cours d'agriculture. Leurs noms sont suivis de l'abréviation "A". Le nombre d'écoles déclarant des cours d'agriculture dépasse 90.

Ecoles de Beaux-arts. Il y en a sept et elles constituent la liste No. 5.

Price 50 cents

D.B.S. Reference Papers were first issued in 1949, when they were numbered 1 to 8. In 1950 they were numbered 1 to 12. The first in 1951 is numbered 21, as if 1950 Papers had been 9 to 20.

List of Public Secondary Schools in Canada, 1950

(Academic, Commercial, Technical and Agricultural)

1. Academic Secondary Schools - The one term common to secondary schools of all provinces (except the Roman Catholic Schools of Quebec) is "high school". But the exact definition of a high school, or the classification of high schools, is not the same in any two provinces. In some cases the larger high schools are called collegiate institutes, collegiate departments or grammar schools, and the smaller by such names as continuation schools, superior schools, etc.. Regional schools are those established to serve large rural areas and the term composite is used to describe a school which offers commercial and technical or agriculture courses along with the academic course.

The following pages show the location of the larger secondary schools in each province, but by reason of differences in classification includes smaller schools in some provinces than in others. All those included, however, normally teach all the years of the high school or secondary course. Junior high schools are not listed. The list includes 1,852 academic secondary schools.

2. Commercial Secondary Schools - The names of the schools in list No. 1 and No. 3 which offer commercial courses are followed by a "C". Commercial high schools which do not include academic or technical courses are shown in list No. 2. Altogether there are over 230 schools offering day commercial courses.

3. Technical Schools - The names of the secondary schools in the first list which have departments for technical or industrial teaching are followed by "T". Technical schools which do not include the academic course are shown in the third list. The two sources together include the names of 270 schools where day technical or industrial courses of secondary school level are given. Schools offering evening technical classes are not included unless they also operate a day technical school.

4. Technical Institutes - There are 11 of these senior technical schools operated by the Provincial Departments of Education.

5. Agricultural Schools - List No. 5 gives the names of purely agricultural schools, including dairy schools. University faculties or colleges of agriculture are included by reason of their diploma courses. A few of the high schools in British Columbia, Ontario and New Brunswick (Lists 1 and 3) offer an agricultural course; their names are followed by "A". Over 145 schools offer courses in agriculture.

6. Schools of Fine Arts - Seven of these make up list No. 6.

Other Canadian School Directories

Public Elementary Schools - There is no published list of the 30,000 public elementary schools in Canada. However three Departments of Education annually publish the names of all the schools in their province. The Nova Scotia Department of Education, Halifax, publishes a list of schools in Nova Scotia with the post office serving the section. The Ontario Department of Education, Toronto, prepares two annual volumes, with the addresses of secretaries of school boards as well as teachers; one covers elementary schools (price $1.50) the other covers secondary schools (price 75¢). A list of schools for British Columbia is given in the annual report of the Superintendent of Education, Provincial Department of Education, Victoria, B.C.

Private Elementary and Secondary Schools - A "Directory of Private Schools in Canada, 1950", including over 1,200 schools (academic schools, high school departments of colleges, and business colleges), and showing postal addresses, is available from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, price 50 cents.

Universities and Colleges - A list of these, with addresses, appears biennially in the "Survey of Higher Education" published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Price 60 cents.
